WAR FROM WAR

AMERICAN LIBERATOR BOMBERS RANGE OVER NORWAY THURSDAY

MISSION FOLLOWS RAF ASSAULT ON LUDWIGSHAFEN CHEMICAL CENTER

By GLADWIN HILL
LONDON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—American Liberator bombers ranged far over Norway again today, blasting at Hitler's far northern war industry only a few hours after a heavy RAF assault on the German chemical center of Ludwigshafen.

It was the second time in three days American bombers had blasted at the section of German war industry hitherto relatively free of aerial poundings.

A power station at Rjukan, about 80 miles west of Oslo, was blasted Tuesday.

Today's targets were not identified immediately.

Last night's RAF attack on the German Rhineland city was carried out along with a raid on Berlin, hit by missiles for the third time in seven days, and other attacks on unnamed targets in western Germany.

One bomber was lost during the night's operations, as compared with 12 heavy craft lost by the RAF the last time Ludwigshafen was raided on Oct. 4.

The world's largest chemical works, operated by the I. G. Farben trust, is situated at Ludwigshafen, where high explosives made along with submarine parts, tanks, trucks and Diesel engines.

The assault was the first heavy attack on Germany since American Flying Fortresses blasted at Bremen in daylight Saturday.

Last night's secondary raid on Berlin was the 17th visit the RAF's twin-engine bombers have paid the German capital since mid-August, but the first since Nov. 3.

At the very moment the RAF's great four-engined bombers were roaring through the darkness toward their target, Allied radio stations were telling the people of France to stay away from factories producing war materials for the Germans.

Speaking over the London radio in a broadcast beamed to Europe, a spokesman for the Allied high command named 36 French cities and towns—including Paris—which he said would be made targets of mass blows by day or night in the near future.

Other cities where Frenchmen were warned to take precautions included Metz, Nantes, Le Mans, Limoges, Toulouse, Montauban, Fives-Lille, Denain, Strasbourg, Mulheim, Albert, Lyons, Ivry-Colombes, Billancourt and Argenteuil.

The warnings were repeated several times.

Called to German Service
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Apparently pressed for reserves, German authorities in occupied Estonia and Latvia have called up 10 classes of reservists for service in the German army, Swedish press dispatches from Berlin said today.

SEA-ROVING ALLIED BOMBERS RANGE OVER WIDE PACIFIC AREA
MOUNTING BLOWS TO ENEMY SHIPS AND BASES REPORTED

By The Associated Press.
Sea-roving Allied bombers now are ranging along more than 2,000 miles of Japan's supply-strained outposts defenses in the South and Central Pacific—from Northeastern New Guinea to the Marshalls—to deal mounting blows at the enemy's ships and air bases.

AP CORRESPONDENT INJURED ON BOUGAINVILLE—Associated Press War Correspondent Robert James, who here sits behind his typewriter on Guadalcanal, was reported to have been wounded Nov. 7, when a Jap bomber demolished a war correspondents' tent on Bougainville Island. Three other writers were wounded and an Australian correspondent, Keith Palmer, was killed. (AP wirephoto.)

GERMANS SEEKING TO HOLD ITALIAN LINE ALL WINTER

HAVE CONCENTRATED BULK OF STRENGTH ON FIFTH ARMY FRONT

By DON WHITEHEAD
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Determined to hold the Garigliano river line all winter if possible the Germans have concentrated the bulk of their defensive strength along the Fifth Army front in a desperate bid to halt the Allied advance on Rome.

This strategy became increasingly clear today as American and British patrols probed the enemy's so-called winter line—a deep series of pill boxes, gun emplacements, trenches and barbed wire entanglements blasted out of the rocky mountains.

For the first time since Allied troops fought their way ashore on the beaches of Salerno the Germans have fallen back while they fortified six positions, and no one has any illusions about the bitter, bloody battles that must be fought before the enemy is dug out of the hills.

The valley running from Cassino to Rome between towering fog-covered mountain passes is the natural road for the army to follow.

And because it is the natural avenue to Rome the Germans have thrown up their heaviest defenses and massed the greater part of their troops in the vicinity, with the Apennines on their left flank standing as a guard against the British Eighth army.

In addition to holding the strong positions on heights commanding the valley the enemy has had a friendly ally in the weather. Steady cold rains have swollen streams and inundated by-passes along the Fifth Army's supply lines as well as subjecting troops to the elements.

Turkey Rapidly Heading for War Against Axis

By WILLIAM B. MING

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Turkey is moving toward war with the axis.

Turkey's sub rosa assistance to allied armed forces, which closely approximates that which the United States gave Britain in the months before Pearl Harbor, is rapidly carrying the nation toward a war footing.

SECRETARY STATE MAKES PRECEDENT BREAKING ADDRESS

WAY POINTED FOR ALL PEACE LOVING NATIONS LIVE IN SECURITY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Cast in a hero's role, white-haired 72-year-old Cordell Hull made a triumphant appearance before an unprecedented joint session of congress today to report that the recent Moscow conference laid the foundation in his opinion, for a world freed of destructive forces of international anarchy.

Given a tremendous ovation by both members of congress and packed galleries, the secretary of State told his audience that the Moscow declarations, for which he has been given a large share of the credit—point the way "toward enabling all peace-loving nations, large and small, to live in peace and security in the post-war world."

It was the first time a cabinet member ever addressed congress only by the welcome accorded the President and rulers of other nations was given the one-time Tennessee mule-skinner as he entered the chamber.

Members of the house and senate diplomats from other lands and fellow cabinet members stood and cheered as Hull walked slowly to the rostrum to be greeted by Speaker Rayburn and Vice President Wallace.

He was introduced by Rayburn as a statesman who has "interpreted the inarticulate longings of millions" at home and abroad. A thunder of applause endorsed the tribute.

Later Applause.
There was applause, too, near the outside of his address when he declared:

"We have reached a stage in the war in which the United Nations are on the offensive in every part of the world. Our enemies are suffering defeat after defeat. The time has come when their desperate attempt to destroy the world will be utterly crushed."

An outburst of applause greeted Hull's estimate of Premier Marshal Stalin of Russia as "one of the great statesmen of the world."

COUPLE CORSICANA SOLDIERS LISTED AS WOUNDED IN ACTION

ONE ALREADY RETURNED TO ACTION; OTHER'S WOUNDS SLIGHT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The War Department made public today the names of 288 United States soldiers wounded in action. Texans named included:

Howard, Pfc. Leon D.—Owen E. Howard, father, 316 North Ninth Street, Corsicana.

Landis, Pfc. Orval L.—Mrs. Jessie M. Landis, mother, McAllen.

O'Daniel, Staff Sgt. Gorman L.—Mrs. Maggie O'Daniel, mother, Rt. 5, Corsicana.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Howard of Corsicana received a telegram Nov. 3 stating their son, Pfc. Leon D. Howard, has been slightly wounded in action in Italy.

Sum of $18,000 Yet Be Pledged in Community Chest, War Fund Drive

Today Corsicana and Navarro county soldiers with General Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army face snow, sleet and shrapnel in the mountains of Italy in their efforts to oust an alert and well equipped German army from heavily fortified positions blocking the road to Rome.

In Corsicana and Navarro county a patriotic citizenship, enjoying ideal weather conditions, with plenty of food, clothing and no fear of an invading horde of madmen bent on death and destruction, is given the opportunity to contribute $51,462.22 to the Navarro County War Chest.

An Opportunity.
Corsicana and Navarro county soldiers are undergoing every imaginable hardship, staking and losing their lives on every global battlefield that the homefront may continue to have the opportunity to make voluntary contributions, without the use of Gestapo tactics, to Community Chests and War Funds.

At the close of business Wednesday night pledges to the Navarro County War Chest totaled $33,525.55, according to official figures released Thursday by Robert Dillard, executive secretary of the drive. This leaves approximately eighteen thousand dollars to be contributed by the Saturday night deadline.

Confident of Success.
Leaders of the campaign feel confident of success and optimistically predict an oversubscription pointing to the fact that over fourteen million dollars are on deposit in the Corsicana banks and that there is more money in circulation in the city and county now than ever before.

Make Thorough Canvass.
All committees will continue canvass of the business district and Friday afternoon between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock the women will make a thorough canvass of the residential district.

The negroes also have organized with 57 block leaders and have pledged to secure $2,000. The Corsicana Community Chest, J. M. Dyer, president, will provide for ten local relief agencies. John Thompson, chairman and F. C. Lewis, vice-chairman, provides for 17 major war relief agencies. John Corley is city campaign chairman. M. A. Tekel is treasurer, and Robert G. Dillard, is executive secretary of the combined campaigns.

ROW OVER SUBSIDIES FOR FOOD BRINGS TALK OF INFLATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—A row over food subsidies blew open the question of inflation widely open on Capitol Hill today.

The situation is this:
1—The house and senate apparently are geared—at least they talk that way—to banning subsidies—government payments to producers intended to hold down real food costs.

2—Each branch expects President Roosevelt to veto the measure that contains the subsidy prohibition and high spokesmen agree they do not have enough votes to override that veto.

3—Meanwhile, the subsidy question is being seized upon by both sides as a prime argument over inflation. Administration backers insist subsidies are necessary to hold down food costs.

LITTLE VOLCANIC ISLANDS IN AEGEAN SEA HAVE BEEN SCENES BLOODY BATTLES FOR CENTURIES

By DEWITT MCKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst.
Since the dawn of history men have engaged from time to time in bloody battle on the rocky shores of the little islands of the Aegean Sea, either to capture them or, having achieved that feat, to hold them against the enemy.

One would think that these eruptions on the face of the waters were endowed with priceless wealth instead of being mainly barren volcanic upheavals. Some of the biggest have had their merits, but most of them have served merely as homes for fishermen.

JAP NAVY BATTERED AND BESTED BUT IS STILL FORMIDABLE

GRAND TOTAL OF 341 TO 343 FIGHTING SHIPS SUNK OR DAMAGED

By C. VATES McDANIEL
SOUTHWEST PACIFIC Allied Headquarters, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Battered and bested in every action since the early phases of the first Solomons campaign, the Japanese navy could still oppose any major naval force in the Western Pacific with a formidable battle fleet.

A tabulation of allied claims covering all major war theater engagements in the Pacific reveals 170 Japanese warships destroyed or larger—have been sunk and another 155 damaged.

In December of 1941 Japanese was known to have approximately 200 vessels in these categories in service of nearly completed. While at first glance Japan would appear to have no fleet left at all, numerically her losses have been primarily cruisers and destroyers—warships that can be most quickly replaced.

Despite heavy and unbalancing Jap losses, an analysis of all available information, both before and since Pearl Harbor, leads to the conclusion—which doesn't necessarily reflect official opinion—that the third greatest sea power could face a showdown today with a battle fleet which would compare with what Japan had in December 1941 like this:

Light Cruisers—Qualitatively, if not quantitatively, slightly superior.

Aircraft Carriers—Numerically about equal but definitely inferior in battle potential because of the loss of her best carriers in the Midway battle and the Japanese actions last year, forcing her to resort to slower, less battleworthy, converted ships.

Heavy Cruisers—Strength reduced about 50 percent.

Light Cruisers—Recent construction has not equalized war losses.

More Members of 36th Division in Temple Hospital

TEMPLE, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Another trainload of wounded American fighters, fresh from Salerno and Sicily, rolled into Temple today with McCloskey General Hospital their destination.

Many of the 84 enlisted men and 25 officers were from Texas' own 36th Division and Oklahoma's 45th.

Most of the men grinned and joked—others stared into the Texas dawn.

In good spirits was Sgt. Ewing W. Mays of Heber Springs, Ark., who lost both legs when a shell caught him at Messina in Sicily.

"I hear this place is good on artificial legs and I had better be here because the ones they put on me are going back into action. I'm not put with this war yet."

Pvt. Reggie F. Shurley of Nor-mangee, Texas, was one of the most severely injured men on the train. His back was broken in a streetcar accident in Algiers.

One 35th division soldier glad to arrive at McCloskey was Cpl. Calvin Pike of Corsicana. Corporal Pike was wounded and sent to North Africa with an artillery battalion and later was transferred to special services work. His wife is the former Monte Louise Whitfield of Bartlett, Tex., and his mother, Mrs. Ned Pike, lives at 520 West Park Ave., Corsicana.

Pvt. Hubert H. Horn, who lived between Paris, Tex., and Mount Pleasant, came home with a skull fracture from the Sicilian campaign. He was with the Second armored division.

DIED IN AUSTIN—Lieut. John A. Pierce, Corsicana, U. S. Navy, died with a heart attack Wednesday night in Austin. He was head coach at Corsicana High School for 17 years. Funeral rites are slated here Friday afternoon.

FUNERAL SERVICES FRIDAY AFTERNOON FOR JOHN A. PIERCE

FORMER CORSICANA HI FOOTBALL COACH DIED SUDDENLY AUSTIN

John A. Pierce, 44, lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Air Primary Training Command, regional office, Dallas, former Corsicana High School coach, died in St. David's Hospital, Austin, Wednesday night.

Hours after being stricken with a heart attack at 6 p. m. Lieut. Pierce resided at 212 North Thirtieth street, here, but his headquarters were in Dallas. He was in Austin on an inspection trip at the time he was taken ill.

Funeral services will be held from St. John's Episcopal church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The rites will be conducted by Rev. Alex B. Hanson, rector of the church.

Head Coach Here.
Pierce was the head coach of Corsicana High School from 1925 through 1941, resigning as coach and teacher to enter the Naval service in the late Spring of 1942. Under his direction, Corsicana won five district championships, twice his clubs advancing to the semifinals of the State race in 1930 and 1931.

Many of the 1932 Corsicana Tiger machine won the University of Texas Interscholastic league title.

Pierce had the distinction of winning more games over the Waco Tigers than he lost to that powerhouse and famous schoolboy aggregation.

A. & M. Star.
Graduating from Denton High School, Pierce entered Texas A. & M. College and played under D. W. Rife, now famous coach at the University of Texas. He finished his college career as an engineer at Texas A. & M. College in 1921 and was connected with a telephone corporation in St. Louis before returning to Texas A. & M. College as freshman coach, from which job he came to Corsicana in the summer of 1925. Pierce was a high school end, but when he reported to the Texas Aggies there was a wealth of material and many veterans.

GERMANS QUICKLY SWITCH ATTACKS TO ISLAND OF SAMOS

NAZIS CAPTURED LEROS, ONLY 20 MILES AWAY, ON TUESDAY

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—The Germans, quickly switching their attack from Leros, have begun an aerial assault on Samos, last of the Aegean islands in allied hands, the Berlin radio announced today.

The broadcast said German bombers and dive-bombers dropped bombs of all calibers on military targets on Samos, a Greek island less than 20 miles north of Leros, which capitulated Tuesday.

London morning newspapers sharply criticized the loss of Leros with the Herald urging a full official explanation.

"We shall gain nothing by glossing it over," said the Herald.

ALMOST WORLD-WIDE RAIDS CARRIED OUT BY GIANT BOMBERS

RUSSIANS DROP BACK AND ALLIES STALLED IN ITALY ON GROUND

By The Associated Press.
Allied air power smote the enemy at a dozen places, including Berlin and Ludwigshafen and the Japanese Gilbert and Marshall Islands, while Russian armies dropped back in the Zhitomir area west of Kiev and fought through the suburbs of Rechitsa, dispatches from the fronts said today.

Central Italian rivers went out of banks, but the Germans counterattacked futilely several times near the Adriatic coast. The American Fifth army improved its positions despite active German cannon fire, the Axis communiqué said. All fighting, however, was restricted.

Yugoslav partisans fought defensively in Dalmatia and Croatia, strove to check a German breakthrough in Eastern Bosnia and captured a coal mine serving Belgrade industries.

British newspapers sharply criticized the allied command in the Middle East over the loss of Leros, the News Chronicle declaring "it is hard to resist the conclusion that somebody has blundered."

The nazis began an aerial assault on Samos, an island near Leros. The heaviest air blow was directed at the great German chemical center of Ludwigshafen on the Rhine. One HAF bomber was lost.

Other Targets.
Other targets besides Berlin and the Marshall and Gilbert Islands included unspecified places in western Germany; two Greek airfields near Athens; Crete; Rhodes; the Aegean airfield on the island of Bougainville in the Solomons; the Raul area; Hongkong; French Indo-China; shipping off New Guinea and Burma.

Moscow did not view the retreat in the Zhitomir-Korostyshev area as serious, but as a withdrawal to prevent encirclement of a comparatively small advance guard.

The Russians said they abandoned several villages and made the Germans pay a price of 1,500 dead and 80,000 wounded for their first gain in Russia since the Red army opened its July offensive on Belgorod.

Elsewhere in Russia, the Red armies reported advances.

Germany pressed for reserves that Stockholm reported the nazis called up ten classes of reserves in occupied Estonia and Latvia.

The attacks against the Gilberts and Marshall Islands in the Southwest Pacific were the third in three days and recalled Admiral Shester Nimitz's recent words that his central Pacific forces soon would launch an offensive against Japan.

Shells and Makin in the Gilberts were the targets of unopposed Liberator bombers.

Despite heavy losses, a dispatch from Allied headquarters in the Southwest Pacific said the Japanese navy still could oppose any major move with a formidable fleet. A tabulation showed 170 Japanese warships sunk and 155 damaged during the war.

PLENTY OF LIQUOR TO GIVE 12 QUARTS TO EVERY AMERICAN

TREASURY TAX DEMANDS NIPPED BY BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Senator Scrugham (D-Nev.) says there's enough whiskey in bonded warehouses to provide every American citizen with at least 12 quarts. Each quart supplies 16 drinks and most liquor authorities agree that's enough to start any drinker brushing little men off his shoulder. They draw upon adages to emphasize their point. Says Sen. George (D-Ga.) of the finance committee, "They'll be coming to a goat's house for wool." Said Rep. Doughton (D-NC) the house ways and means committee, last week: "You can shear a sheep once a year but you can skin him only once."

COMMUNITY AAA COMMITTEEMEN BE ELECTED FRIDAY

DELEGATES WILL ALSO BE NAMED AT SAME TIME FOR COUNTY MEET

Community committeemen will be elected in the twenty-six communities of Navarro county at meetings held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, according to an announcement Tuesday by Sam L. Garrett, county AAA chairman. The committeemen named at these elections will serve from Dec. 1, 1943, through December 1, 1944. This is a change of one month in the time of service as compared with former years. In addition to the community committeemen, delegates will also be named to the county convention to be held at the courthouse November 26 when the county AAA committee will be elected.

"How well the food program in this county is run next year depends to a large extent on the farmers who are elected to hold these committeemen jobs," Mr. Garrett said. He continued: "The Triple-A committee in this county will handle the rationing and allocation of farm machinery, equipment, building supplies and other agricultural materials and facilities. It will issue farm livestock slaughter permits, handle the farm transportation program, including recommendations for the issuance of certificates for ties, off-highway gasoline and tractor fuel. These are only a few of the many important wartime jobs which the committee will handle in this county."

Personal Sacrifice
"Many of the farmers who become Triple-A committeemen must do so at a personal sacrifice. But the soldiers in Italy and in the South Pacific, and on all other battlefronts of the world, are making personal sacrifices. Their personal affairs have been pushed into the background by world affairs."

Those eligible to vote in the committeemen elections include those participating in the agricultural conservation program, under the allotment, soil conserving, conservation materials and services, potato or truck crop provisions; Federal Crop Insurance program or sugar program.

Election Place

The places and location of the elections are:

Purdon, Grinstead store; Frost, Melton's Cafe; Blooming Grove, city hall; Emhouse, Agriculture building; Ruston, in Barry; Dawson, First National Bank; Chatfield, school; East, Kerens, Quaites store; Pearsley, Payne's store; Dresden, Dresden store; Streetman school; Emmett, Connor's store; Barry, in Barry; East Corsicana, courthouse; Eureka, Hamilton's Garage; Montfort, school; Eldorado, Union High; Pickett, school; Powell, bank; West Corsicana, Farmer church; Navarro, school; Midway, Browning's House; Rice, Old Rice Pharmacy; Bazette, school; Rural Shade, school; West Kerens, Army building.

Luncheon Honoring Richland Bride-Elect Was Given in Dallas

A luncheon honoring Miss Daisy Manning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Manning of Richland, and bride-elect of Lieut. Rodney T. Brubaker, U. S. A. F., was given by her sister, Mrs. Warren Howard, at the Mural Room of the Baker Hotel in Dallas.

Places were marked for Mrs. John P. McKinney, Mrs. Roy Martin, Miss Ernestine Allen and Mrs. Fred Mitchell of Dallas, the honoree and hostess.

Forty-Two Party and Pie Supper White's Chapel Next Friday

There will be a 42 party and pie supper at White's Chapel community center Friday night, Nov. 19, sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club and the community center.

The members of each organization are to bring pies, cakes, pillow cases, coffee or tea. Also bring cups, plates, glasses and forks.

Everyone invited to come and enjoy this social.

OUT OF TANGLE OF TIMES EMERGES NEED FOR HONESTY*

Based on the Red Peaks of Sinai, This Divine-ly-Ordained Virtue Is Primary Condition of Successful Living—What Jesus Did for One Rich Man.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Several times I have been robbed—of my purse, of my clothes by a housebreaker, of automobile contents and accessories, and of the large portion of my food supplies while trekking across Mesopotamia.

My instinctive reaction to all these experiences has interested me. For I found myself being sorrier for the thief than for myself. I had suffered loss of possessions, which I could survive, but the men who had robbed me had suffered a loss of personality. They were thieves, with the consciousness that they were such to accompany them throughout life. They could never lift up their heads in self-respect.

However professional and calloused they were, there would come moments of consciousness of what they had lost in their own souls. And it is a life tragedy for even the lowest of men to have to despise themselves. I know a criminal who, one day lying drunk in a gutter, was heard pouring out condemnation of himself more bitter than any ever visited upon him by self-righteous neighbors. What a penalty it is for some persons to have to live with themselves!

Dishonest men hurt nobody else so much as their own souls. What are the thoughts, as he approaches death, of the man who has acquired wealth dishonestly; who has defrauded his employees of just wages; and who has oppressed and exploited the public?

A Rock-Based Truth
Most of our modern social planning is in reality an attempt to catch up with Sinai. "Social justice" is but a modernized version of the Ten Commandments. The post-war peace plan will have to be based on the granite foundation of the Mountain of the Law.

For the profound truth is that the Commandments are an expression of the nature of God. Virtue is not a discovery or an invention; it derives directly from the Creator and Governor of the universe. Sophisticated business may affirm, "Honesty is the best policy," but the deeper student of life is ruled by honesty, not from the selfish motives of policy, but because it is the eternal decree of the Almighty. "Thou shalt not steal" comes ringing down the ages as one of the Ten Words by which God says life is to be governed. So shaped, a character wins life's real rewards; as the Scotch bard declared, "An honest man is the noblest work of God."

As a mother dreams great dreams for the baby she cuddles in her arms, she may envisage fortune and fame and power for him. These are uncertain. One possibility, however, is sure; she may train her child to become an honest man. This high form of success is possible to everybody; and it is real and basic success, more desirable than wealth or position. Without it, any other form of achievement is foolish. With it the profoundest satisfaction of life is attained.

My Good Neighbors
We spend our summers in rural Canada, amidst a community that are descendants of British loyalists who fled from New England during and after the American Revolution. They carried the Puritan virtues with them. They are conspicuously honest. One does not have to keep watch on a worker's activities, or check up his report of hours of labor. Throughout the Summer, whether present or absent, we never lock a door of our camp.

For nine years through eight or nine months of remote and untended loneliness, the camp and its contents have been undisturbed. The integrity and good will of our neighbors are one of the basic charms of the place. These rural folk may lack some of the graces and sophistication of the cities; but their sterling virtues more than make up for that fact. They are to me a constant reminder that successful living depends upon the timeless qualities expressed in the Decalogue.

High School PTA Enjoyed Address By Robt. Dillard

Using as his theme, "Training Teen-Age Youth for Peace," Robert G. Dillard, secretary of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, brought a stimulating and enlightening discussion of the time subject to members of the Corsicana High School Parent-Teacher Association on Tuesday afternoon. In speaking of the world of tomorrow, which is now occupying the minds of industrial leaders, it was brought out that factories, buildings and cities are being planned in detail, and that a world filled with mechanical, electronic and every kind of engineering marvels is being envisioned for the future.

The speaker reminded his listeners that a more important feature of the world of tomorrow will be the human element—its responsibilities, problems and opportunities. While bending every effort to win the war, the importance of being prepared for peace was emphasized, with the assertion that the pattern of post-war America will be just what Americans make it.

Other Generations

In referring to the generations that have played important roles in history, the speaker stated that one American generation fought the Civil War, and that another generation produced homesteaders, cattle kings, lumber barons and industrial magnates who raised the tempo of American economic life to a new pitch. Within the next twenty years, the speaker declared that the generation that participated in World War I will turn over what they have wrought to the management of a generation which has come of age during the most devastating economic convulsion in American history.

The prospective heirs of this American heritage as the most intensively nurtured group in all recorded time. They are bigger, heavier, stronger, healthier, wealthier, and more colorful than any generation which has gone before them, he stated, adding that they are better fed, better housed, better dressed, better educated and more sophisticated than any of their predecessors. But are they prepared for useful and peaceful living in the world of tomorrow?

Basic Requirements

Basic requirements for youth in the post-war world were enumerated as the use of a skill or a craft, a willingness to start at the bottom and work up, an understanding of political and economic institutions, good health habits, a knowledge of business, the advantages of vocational guidance, loyalty to ideals, the right attitude, and a thoroughness in all undertakings.

The speaker recommended that schools give more emphasis to the study of English, arithmetic, reading, writing, history, spelling, and sex education.

Introductory Features

Mrs. Winnie Lee Rankin, president, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. John Henry read minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Gertrude Russell, program chairman for the year, was then introduced and presented Ballard George Jr., who gave piano interpretations of "Hunting Song" by Mendelssohn and "Waltz in A Flat" by Brahms. The speaker for the day was then introduced by Mrs.

Harlee Family Well Represented In Armed Services

First Class Petty Officer Tom Harlee, who has been serving with the U. S. navy in the Southwest Pacific, has been returned to the U. S. naval hospital at Oakland, Calif., for observation. For the past several weeks, he has been suffering from a throat infection, according to a message received here by his daughter, Dorothy Jean.

Sgt. Frances Harlee of the Woman's Army Corps daughter of Ed Harlee, is now on recruiting duty in several of the Southern states, according to information received by her aunt, Miss Lizzie Harlee.

Elizabeth Ann Harlee, daughter of Marion Harlee, is now a WAVE on duty as a giletician at the U. S. naval hospital in Newport, R. I. Marion T. Harlee, son of Marion Harlee, is a member of the U. S. Marines. He has been serving in the Munda sector in the Southwest Pacific, but is now in the Bougainville area, reportedly having been injured in action.

From the above facts, it will be noted that members of the Harlee family are contributing wholeheartedly to the war effort in all parts of the world.

Lieut. Dan Story Is Transferred to German Prison Camp

A letter was received by Sid Story Tuesday from the War Department informing him that his son, First Lieut. Daniel A. Story, was now a prisoner of war at Stalag Luft 3, Germany. No further information was given.

Lieut. Story had been a prisoner of war in Italy, interned in Camp 2, at Chieti, Italy, prior to Italy's surrender. The Germans were quickly in control of that area and held a firm grip on all rail lines, making it impossible for Italy to carry out the Allied demand for the surrender of all war prisoners.

Nothing had been heard by relatives or friends of Lt. Story since Italy surrendered until the War Department announcement of his internment in Germany.

Married at Court House

T. F. Best and Mrs. Ella Owen, Pickett, were married at the court house Tuesday. The ceremony was performed by Judge A. E. Foster.

Russell, who stated that his discussion would inaugurate a series of programs on "Training Teen-Age Youth for the Future."

Mrs. W. M. Wilson is visiting relatives in Houston this week.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Young Holstein Bull Sells for Price of $26,000

WAUKESHA, Wis., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A 16-month old Holstein bull, sired by a champion and a one-time world's junior butter champion, commanded the top price of $26,000 at the National Blue Ribbon Holstein sale yesterday.

The yearling bull, Carnation Madcap Supreme, was sold to the Curtiss Candy Company for its farm at Libertyville, Ill. The $26,000 price was said by dairymen to have been one of the largest recorded in the last several years. Carnation Madcap Supreme, consigned by the Carnation Milk Farm near Seattle, Wash., was sired by Carnation Governor Imperial, an American aged bull for two successive years. His dam is Carnation Homestead, while his maternal grand dam is a full sister of Carnation Ormsby Madcap. Fayne, holder of the all-time world's milk record of 41,943 pounds in one year.

PACIFIC WAR

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo reiterated at a luncheon in Tokyo for Oriental newspapermen that Japan is fighting to "emancipate East Asia from British and American greed for world hegemony." Those Marshall and Gilbert raids presently catch the eye. For they are being made from undisclosed bases by land-based army Liberators of the Seventh Air Force, which has headquarters in Hawaii. But Hawaii is more than 2,000 miles removed from the raiding scene. Nearer to the Marshalls and Gilberts are the Ellice islands in the Southwest where American air bases recently have been acquired at Nananea and Funafuti.

Although Japan has air bases in the Marshalls and Gilberts, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported no enemy interception encountered by the Liberators which struck Monday at Jalut and Mill in the Marshalls and Makin in the Gilberts. On the preceding Saturday and Sunday, the Liberators had bombed Mill in the Marshalls and Tarawa in the Gilberts. None of the big bombers has been lost or damaged in these attacks.

The raids have resulted close upon public utterances by Admiral Nimitz at Pearl Harbor that his Central Pacific forces soon will launch an offensive against Japan.

The heavy damage caused the 6,000-ton vessel near Rabaul by bombs of Catalina flying boats which were attacking a convoy Monday night and early Tuesday brought to 50 the number of cargo ships listed as sunk or damaged in that area in Ken. Douglas MacArthur's November communique.

Tokyo Sinking Claims.
LONDON, Nov. 18.—(P.)—The Tokyo radio asserted today that 20 Japanese planes yesterday attacked American shipping off Bougainville in the Solomons, sinking four transports and damaging a freighter and a destroyer.

While returning, the broadcast said, the raiders encountered 100 Allied fighters and shot down six Japanese losses were put at 10 planes.

The Japanese claims were total without confirmation from Allied sources.

Altruistic War
(By The Associated Press.)
Premier General Hideki Tojo, in an address in Tokyo today, declared that Japan is waging the current war to "emancipate East Asia from British and American greed for world hegemony."

not on a large scale, but as simply a tactical maneuver designed to prevent the encirclement of a comparatively small advance guard.

They explained that a light, mobile column of tanks and motorized infantry had led the Russian drive through Korostyshev and Zhitomir and that the bulk of the Red army forces was not to maintain the pace. Boggy ground impeded troop movements and low visibility restricted aerial activity, front advisers said.

Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukrainian army, which carried out the retreat, has been one of the fastest moving Russian units in the present offensive, begun on July 12 in the Belgorod sector. While the tip and left flank of the Kiev salient sagged slightly under the heavy enemy pressure, other Red army forces pushed forward on the right flank toward the strategic rail junction city of Korosten to the north.

JAP FLEET

but has increased speed and hitting power.

Destroyers—Shrinkage from 35 to 50 per cent.

Seaplane Carriers—Approximately the same.

At the outbreak of the war Japan had ten battleships in service and three, or possibly four, under construction. The Japanese naval program between 1937 and 1940 provided for building four additional "armored ships." These have been variously described as battle cruisers, aircraft carriers and heavy cruisers. The last description is probably correct.

Japan started the war with nine, possibly eleven, aircraft carriers, of which seven were first class vessels. She also had nine large seaplane carriers in addition to a number of smaller ships described as tenders.

Identified Japanese cruisers totaled 35 in 1941. Of these, probably 16 were heavy ships carrying eight inch guns. At least four or five more vessels, probably more lightly armed ships, were then under construction.

There were only 108 known Japanese destroyers two years ago but more were believed to have been laid down in the late thirties. Japan also had twelve or more torpedo boats and at least 18 minesweepers—500 to 800 ton craft—which looked like they were capable of performing some of a destroyer's duties.

A tabulation of allied claims of damage inflicted on the Japanese fleet compiled from official communiques, press releases and statements covering all Pacific operations from the start of the war to January 1942, and all operations from or in the Southwest and South Pacific commands, which include the battles of the Coral Sea, of Midway and initial Japanese landings in the Aleutians shows a grand total of 341 to 343 Japanese warships sunk, believed destroyed or damaged to date.

Must Not Say Bombed Out.
MADRID, Nov. 13.—(P.)—German merchants have been ordered to refrain from advising clients and wholesalers when they have been bombed out of their premises, dispatches from Germany disclosed today.

Henceforth, the German press announced, merchants whose places of business have been destroyed by bombs may advise their clients of their change of address but must not say why they moved.

BOYCE HOUSE WAS
SPEAKER BEFORE
COUNTY TEACHERS

REGULAR MEETING OF
COUNTY INSTRUCTORS
HELD AT STATE HOME

Boyce House entertained members of the Navarro County Teachers Association with stories of Texas at their regular meeting held at the State Home Monday night.

W. V. Harrison, president of the Association, said in his introductory remarks that he had promised the teachers of the county something different at their meetings this year and for the first program he had selected an outstanding entertainer. He said that he told House when he invited him to speak at the meeting that he did not want anything "too school teachery," that he did not want the speaker to tell the teachers that they were engaged in the most noble profession in the world and that the destiny of future generations rested in their hands for they had been told that so much they were beginning to believe it. He also said that he told House not to tell the teachers they were the poorest paid professional group in the state for they knew that already.

House, newspaper columnist and lecturer, stated that with so many injunctions on what not to speak about, there was only one thing left to do and that was "Give You Texas." He told a number of his famous stories and mixed in some new ones about the romance of Texas.

Orchestra Presented.

O. K. Vinson, first vice president and program chairman, assisted by Mrs. G. E. Ramsey, secretary-treasurer, had charge of the program and presented the orchestra of the State Home, under the direction of Mrs. Mamie B. Forke, in several numbers.

During the business session it was announced that D. B. Palmer, Frost, alternate delegate to the State Teachers Association, would represent the Navarro County Association at the state convention which meets in San Antonio on Nov. 26 and 27. Mrs. K. Hartley, delegate will be unable to attend, it was announced.

J. C. Watson, county superintendent, made an announcement concerning transportation of school children not on the census rolls. Affidavits, he said, would have to be made concerning the children not on the rolls before money would be allowed for their transportation to schools. Watson also made an announcement of the efforts being made to enroll all men in the services at the Red Cross office, and asked the teachers to cooperate.

J. T. Black, chairman of the Interscholastic League, announced that a meeting of the League committee would be held in the office of the county superintendent during the second week in December to make final decision as to whether or not the annual League meet would be held and where.

LT. CHAS. WHITLOCK WAS DECORATED FOR
RAID ON PLOESTI

CORSICANA IS NOW
REPORTED AS PRISONER
OF GERMANS

First Lieut. Charles A. Whitlock of Corsicana, now a prisoner of war of the Germans, was one of 99 Texans decorated and honored as heroes by the United States government for wrecking Hitler's vast Ploesti, Rumania, oil refineries in August, it was learned today. Decorations went to 1,548 Americans who participated in the raid that destroyed 42 per cent of the total Rumanian refining capacity but cost an official 53 Liberator bombers.

Survivors have written relatives according to news dispatches, of the thick flak about the ships during the raid, one of the toughest assignments on record—against huge concentrations of anti-aircraft fire, and all types of Axis aircraft. It was termed by the participants as a long and dangerous raid—with barrage balloons guarding the targets against such a ground sweeping attack as the Americans staged. The last of the bombers flew through oil-fueled flames.

Associated Press dispatches state that three Texans are known dead, three are prisoners of war and 27 are missing. Lt. Whitlock was reported missing in action, but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Whitlock, were notified last week he was a German prisoner. Eighty-six of the 99 Texans got the Distinguished Flying Cross or the Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster to the Cross. Five received the Silver Star and eight were awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Lieut. Whitlock was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross.

TO HOLD SERVICES HERE—

Major Louise Baldry, (above) of Atlanta, Ga., who has held the position of dean of women in the Salvation Army Officer's Training College for many years, will come to Corsicana for a limited series of special services at the Salvation Army Citadel starting Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and continuing through Sunday.

In addition to the stirring addresses by Maj. Baldry special music including vocal and instrumental presentations will be featured.

For the past several months Maj. Baldry has been touring the southern territory in the interest of the youth of this area.

The public is cordially invited to attend the series of meetings.

Maj. Baldry's father served as commander of the local Salvation Army Corps a number of years ago.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK
FEEDERS ANXIOUSLY AWAITING SOYBEANS

FORT WORTH, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Texas farmers, dairymen and ranchers are anxiously awaiting the distribution of soybean meal, proclaimed as the solution to the protein shortage.

Early in October some 300 cars of soybeans were shipped to South Texas cotton oil mills for processing. In addition, some 462 cars arrived in Fort Worth for storage either by oil mills or in grain elevators.

But with these almost 700 car-loads of soybeans within the borders of the state, protein feeds seem just as scarce and just as hard to get as they were before soybean shipments started.

Ranges are dry in many sections and small ranchmen in many areas are having to haul water for their livestock.

Trading in stocker and feeder calves and yearlings and lambs has been slow for the past month, and some sections of West Texas report 30 to 50 per cent of the calves and lambs unsold, mainly light weight calves and lambs, and no buyers at prices sharply under prices paid for supplies that have moved and were contracted early.

Reports indicate that many feeders are inactive due to their inability to buy or contract supplies of protein feeds.

A severe winter coupled with an inadequate supply of protein feeds would hit hard at breeding herds the foundation of the beef supply for several years to come.

Information From Navarro County
Rationing Board

To combat the black marketing of Ammunition, the OPA has established ceiling prices on all ammunition used by civilians. This means that prevailing prices are considerably lower than the prices during the fall of the 1942 hunting season, when the price of all kinds of ammunition for civilian use had practically reached the peak, Wilbur Wright, chairman of the Navarro county war price and rationing board announced Tuesday.

Ceiling prices on shotgun shells, 20 in a box, are: 12 gauge, $1.35; 16 and 20 gauge, $1.52.

For rim-fire cartridges, 50 in a box, the prices are: 22 long rifle, regular, 34 cents; 22 short, regular, 21 cents.

Center fire cartridges, 20 in a box, have the following ceilings: 25-35 Winchester, $1.41; 30-30 Winchester, $1.46; 30 Remington, $1.46; 300 Savage-Remington, $1.85; 32 Winchester special, $1.46; 35 Remington, $1.64, and 270 Winchester, $2.10.

An amendment to a recent OPA regulation outlines two new weight brackets in determining point values of jams, jellies and preserves.

The following summary of point values the first figure quoted is the point value of the various spreads in quantities of over zero ounces and included 5 1-2 ounce and the second figure is for quantities of over 5 1-2 ounces and including 8 ounces. Jams, spreads and non-citrus marmalades, 0, 3; jellies, 0, 2; citrus marmalades 0, 0, and fruit butters, 0, 2.

SHOP AND MAIL EARLY IS CHRISTMAS URGE
BY POSTAL HEADS

Shop now! Mail now! November is Christmas mailing month this year! So warns G. C. Hudson, acting postmaster of Corsicana.

Because 30,000 postal workers have gone into the armed forces, and railroads are burdened with war traffic, it is imperative that gift-givers mail their Christmas parcels in November, and their last-minute gifts before December 10, is the order received by Hudson from Frank C. Walker, postmaster general.

"Be certain that district or zone numbers are used in addresses where they exist, and mark the packages "Do Not Open Until Christmas," he said.

A large contingent of prospective negro selectees were sent to Dallas Wednesday morning for physical examinations preparatory to entering the armed forces from Navarro County Draft Board No. 1.

Several prospective negro selectees were sent to Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday from Navarro County Draft Board No. 2.

A contingent of white selectees, including fathers, will be sent to Camp Wolters Saturday for induction from Board No. 2.

SEEKING WOMEN FOR SERVICE IN
ARMY AIR CORPS

In order to carry out its part in the big push that is due to come soon overseas, the Army Air Forces must have more help. Men can be drafted to supply this help, but it has been found that fathers taken away from homes and families are less efficient than soldiers than women who volunteer.

Therefore the Army Air Corps has opened its ranks to women from 20 to 50 without dependents or children under 14. By enlisting in the Women's Army Corps during a drive that will conclude Dec. 7, women can be assigned directly to the Air Corps and become members of the newest branch of service—the WAC.

Enlistees coming in under this drive will be assigned to air fields in this area, allowed to choose their own type of work and be training for 1 by the Air Corps.

On Monday, Nov. 22, an Air WAC recruitment team from the Waco Army Air Field, headed by Lieut. William Byrnes and Lieut. Evelyn Eilman, will arrive in Corsicana and will spend a week in Navarro county. During this time, they hope to interview as many eligible women as possible and will be pleased to discuss the Air WAC with any interested persons.

Frost Girl Weds
Alabama Soldier
Waxahachie Church

Miss Mary Doyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Doyle of Frost, became the bride of Mr. Sgt. Ormond Bobo of Birmingham, Ala., at 7 p. m., November 11, at the Ferris Heights Methodist church, Waxahachie, in a quiet single ring ceremony attended only by close friends. The Rev. Mr. Buttrill, pastor of the church, read the ring service.

The bride wore a winter white wool street-length dress with black accessories, and a corsage of orchids. Misses Dorothy Hightower, and Farrell Smith were the bride's only attendants.

Mrs. Bobo graduated from the Italy high school, and the Nelsons Beauty college, and for the past three years has been employed in Waxahachie.

Sgt. Bobo has served in the United States Army Air Forces for eight years. He was stationed in Hawaii at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor, and was sent back to the States four months ago. He is now stationed in San Antonio.

Mrs. Bobo will remain in Waxahachie for the present, joining her husband later.

Powell 4-H Club
Elected Officers
At October Meeting

The election of officers was the order of business at the first meeting of the Powell 4-H Club boys, held October 25, in the agriculture room of the school.

Officers elected were: Etheredge Massey, president; Kenneth Baggett, vice president; Arthur Johnston, secretary; Joe Pierce, reporter.

Members now enrolled in the organization are: Kenneth Baggett, Boyce Ross, Norman Gocher, Etheredge Massey, Joe Pierce, J. L. Poston, Thomas Perry, Arthur G. Johnston and Delma Ware.

The club had one guest present. There were no agents at the meeting.

NEGRO 4-H BOYS AWARDED CHICKS BY SEARS-ROEBUCK

Four Navarro county 4-H boys have received $75 4-A Barred Rock baby chicks from the Sears Roebuck Company as a reward for work accomplished in connection with the cow-hog-hen plan, it was announced Thursday by Frank J. Robinson, negro county agent.

Each of the boys received a gift from the same company in November 1942. The pigs were exhibited in May 1943. As a reward for the progress made in handling the pigs the chicks were awarded the following: David Walker, 150; C. L. Echols, 100; Thomas Douglas, 75; Roy Carroll, 50. A certificate of breeding accompanied the chicks.

THE WAR TODAY

having got their foothold in the Italian Dodecanese. Italy collapsed, should now be thrown out by the Nazis. Well, that's a hot question which likely will irk the Allied high command. The loss presumably was due to lack of air coverage, the main Allied bases being far away, but whether this handicap of distance should have been overcome is a point which somebody undoubtedly will have to answer on the carpet. Certainly this exhibition of Nazi strength is a warning that Hitler still is very dangerous.

You'd think the fuesher had trouble enough on his hands up in Russia without bothering with pin-head islands in the Aegean. But it's precisely because he is in such great difficulties up north that he's clinging so fiercely to the islands.

Actually these islands are indirect protection for the gravely endangered German right flank up in the Dnieper region. This is so for two vital reasons: (1) The islands effectively block invasion of the Balkans via the Aegean, and Hitler dare not allow the Balkans to collapse until he has pulled his battle line clear back into Poland, past the entrance to the Balkan peninsula; (2) the blocking of the Aegean and the Dardanelles prevents the Allies from giving Russia the vast aid which would be possible if the Black Sea were open to them.

With the talk of increased taxes and with the prospects of an all-embracing income tax, Americans have rallied around to the support of our Government and although it is not and will not be easy there are few if any who vigorously oppose our high taxation. Tom Pickett of Palestine in Race For Congress Seat

Tom Pickett of Palestine, veteran and colorful district attorney in the Third Judicial district, said Wednesday he would be a candidate for Representative in Congress from the Seventh Congressional District in 1944, according to news dispatches.

The congressional post is now held by the veteran Nat Patton, who is expected to seek re-election. Pickett is well-known in Corsicana, having engaged in the trial of several murder cases sent here on changes of venue from counties within his district.

Union Thanksgiving Service to Be Held In First Baptist

The location for the Union Thanksgiving services to be held this year has been changed from the First Methodist church to the First Baptist church.

The meeting will be held Wednesday night, November 24th, with a special program and offering. The offering will go to the Community Chest and war fund drive now under way. The hour, speaker and other features of the observance will be announced at an early date. The program will be under direction of the Corsicana Ministerial Association.

eran wingmen, so he came out for center. One of the lightest pivots in Texas Aggie history up to that time, Pierce became an All-Southwest performer and was an outstanding star performing on the club that was unscathed on for two seasons until his final game in 1920 when the Texas Longhorns won, 7-3, to snap his winning streak of the Ebbelen. Pierce suffered a broken leg on the opening kick-off of the 1920 game with Texas, his final game as a Aggie.

Private in 1918.
Pierce was a private in the U. S. Army in 1918 and from 1922 to 1926 he was in the officers reserve corps.

Always an aggressive player, he expected and received the best efforts of his squadmen, and the football fortunes of Corsicana rose from the early 1920 doldrums to a state threat and one of the most feared schoolboy clubs in Texas.

He is the second member of the famous Ebbelen team at A. & M. to die while in Naval service. The other was Lieut. Roswell Higginbotham, who entered the service from the coaching staff of Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Pierce is also a former student of the University of Texas, attending summer school there.

Organized Coaches.

Through the efforts of Pierce, the Texas High School Football Coaches Association (now the Texas High School Coaches Association), was organized at a meeting at the YMCA here, and the former Tiger mentor served as the president of the organization the first two years of its history. It is now one of the largest similar associations in the world.

Surviving are his wife, Helen Hardy Pierce, Corsicana; two daughters, Mrs. John L. Murchison, Corsicana, and Mrs. Arnold Falk, New Braunfels; mother, Mrs. Cora Etta Pierce, San Antonio; two sisters, Mrs. Mac E. Reeves and Miss Mable Pierce, both of San Antonio, and other relatives.

Corley Funeral Home is in charge.

Married Wednesday.

E. D. Stringer and LaVerne White, both of Corsicana, were married at the courthouse Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Judge Hayden Paschall.

NO MORE HERMITS

Some people may still cling to the idea that after the war the United States can retreat into its shell and forget all about Europe. On this program of isolation Prof. Ralph Barton Perry of Harvard the noted philosopher, has some pungent advice. He says:

"Isolationism is not a policy, it is a failure to recognize the facts. The question 'Shall we or shall we not be isolated?' has no more meaning than the question 'Shall we or shall we not be attracted to the earth's surface by the force of gravitation?' or 'Shall we or shall we not have parents?'"

"There is no such thing as more as a hermit nation. You can stand still where you are and look the other way, or stick your head in the sand; but world affairs will reach out to you wherever you are."

OWING IT TO OURSELVES

One group is never worried about public debt, because "we owe it to ourselves." Another is always worried about it, no matter what the money goes for. A few points are worth attention, because, as inflation draws closer, there is bound to be too much heat about debt and far too little light.

When a bridge or schoolhouse is built, a highway paved, and a community goes into debt for it, it may be safely said "we owe the money to each other." We do and the improvement is there. It benefits all.

Some of the debt incurred in the depression went to save lives and sanity of unemployed workers. Their working power remains, as well as better roads and buildings, to balance it. Part of the money, because of hasty planning, was wasted. But quite a few assets remain.

In war, life and freedom are at stake. Using up reserves and borrowing are necessary. No one questions the value of the purpose of the huge spending. But it leaves no tangible asset. Ammunition is shot, planes are lost, ships sunk. Wealth vanishes into the maw of war.

When a family has to spend beyond its custom on illness, fire or flood, it is glad to have reserves, to borrow on its insurance and from the bank. But when the emergency is past, it must tighten the belt and live on less.

No matter to whom the money is owed, it is gone. Debts must be paid, savings made up. War's public debt is in that class. It must be taken seriously.

WAR AND PEACE

"In time of peace, prepare for war," says the old motto. This present war has proved the soundness of the principle. When it came to the test, none of the peaceful nations were prepared. It had been the same in the first world war, but the nations forced to fight through that bitter war made no use of the victory when it was won. With incredible blindness or indifference, Britain, France and the United States assumed that declarations and pledges would fulfill themselves.

Everybody should know better now. The framework of a strong peace to be set up by the United Nations should bring about such a situation as prevailed when

The Poet of the People

A CHINESE TALE

I tell the tale as it came to me
Of the Chinese view, Which holds, that the blame must be parents' be
For what children do.

Sent home from school for some mischievous done
As a youngster plays,
The teacher wrote: "You must punish your son
For his willful ways."

All the morning long of a bitter day,
Through the window pane,
Uncovered, they noticed a grown man stay
In the driving rain.

Said he, when asked why he stood
so long,
By the storm assailed:
"The parent has erred when a child does wrong."
And I have failed!

"They have written: my son is a willful doer,
And mine is the shame,
By me must the punishment now be had,
For mine is the blame."

the ancient Roman Empire under Caesar Augustus was at its best.
As for criminal states, actual or potential, there must be, and will be strong guards, powerful police forces, to suppress devility and enforce peace under law until it becomes second nature. This, at least, now seems a reasonable hope for mankind, as we reverse the old motto and, while still in time of war, prepare for peace.

WHOSE COUNTRY IS THIS?

It seems easier to boss
the whole topside of the world than to run the coal mines. The American people are getting sick of it.

Three or four honest and patriotic men can meet in Moscow, speaking for all the free nations on earth, and say what shall be done with stubborn egotists who won't obey civilized rules, and the world's organized police power swings into action to back them up.

But in the supposedly free and sovereign United States of America, one vain labor leader can freeze the toes off the men, women and children, and bank the furnace fires, and close the war factories, and stop the trains, if he doesn't like the government.

How long are a hundred million Americans going to take this? Will they have to get after one man with an armory of bazookas and tell him to dig coal, or else?

A MENTOR'S VOICE

Carter Glass, an elder statesman whose character and courage place him virtually above party, has raised his weary voice once more in a great cause. He cannot take his place in the Senate among his colleagues, but he announces:
"I stand now where I have always stood, without quibble or equivocation, behind a league of nations with power to prevent war and enforce peace."

He has plenty of support at last. Things are clearer today than they were in 1919, when a little group of men, most of them presumably sincere but some merely "wilful," prevented a world league for peace.
It has taken the greatest and most destructive of wars to establish the principle of international cooperation and enforced peace. Obviously it had to come, to save modern civilization from destruction.

There is no use in crying over spilt milk, but millions of Americans cannot help sighing, "if it could only have come then!"

There is here a lesson of humility, alike for statesmen and private citizens.

The Germans used to wish for summer, when they did their best fighting in Russia, and to dread winter, when the Russian turn came. Now summer has proved a season of German disaster, and winter is yet to come.

If senators want to know what American postwar policy should be, let 'em go out and ask the men on the street.

An old-fashioned American can still get more done with a program than he can with an agenda.

Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton have returned to Majors Field, Greenville, following a visit in the home of Sgt. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. R. L. Hamilton.

Lieut. H. C. Watters, who took his primary training at Corsicana Field, was a week-end visitor in Corsicana en route from Selma, Kans., to Florida, where he is to take a special course.

Lieut. Kay Tatum has been transferred from Blackland Army Air Field to A. and M. College for a thirty-day course in instrument flying.

Lieut. Jay G. Robbins of Coolidge, who is serving with the U. S.
Army Air Forces somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, according to a message received here.

Friends of Pfc. Robert Lynn Pugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A.
Pugh, will be interested in knowing that he has arrived safely somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, and is well and happy.

Mrs. Claude Hervey left on Monday for Miami, Fla., to join her husband, who is attending Officer Candidate school in that city.

Capt. and Mrs. David McEl-wraith, who have been visiting the F. P. McElwraiths at Harlingen, have gone to Carlsbad, N.M., where Capt. McElwraith will receive further assignment to duty.

Aviation Cadet George Hamlin of St. Louis, who is stationed at Corsicana Field, has been the featured soloist at the Christian Science Church during the past several weeks. Cadet Hamlin is also an organist of note, and his grandfather, George Hamlin, was a former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Mrs. Fred M. Allison, Jr., and son, Fred III, have gone to Fort Reno, Okla., to join Sgt. Allison, who is stationed there.

Mrs. Lloyd Caraway left on Tuesday evening for Fairfield,
Calif., to join her husband, Lieut.
Caraway, who is now stationed at Suisun A. B. Base, in Fairfield.

Sgt. Albert E. McMichael, who has been visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D.
McMichael, left Saturday for Mountain Home, Idaho, where he has been stationed for the past two months. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M.
Taylor and daughters, Betty and Gynna, of Houston have also been guests in the McMichael home.

Miss Tressa Milligan and sister, Mrs. Sam Brim of Dallas, have returned from a trip to Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Lella Phillips of Waco is a guest in the home of her brother,
Fred DuBoise and wife this week.

Lieut. Robert McMullan, who has been visiting relatives here and at Tupelo, has returned to his base at Brownsville.

Mrs. James W. Johnson and children of Kerens were in Dallas Friday making recordings to send her husband, James W. Johnson, who is with the Fifth Army in Italy. Mrs. Johnson has been the recipient of many nice gifts from her husband from his base overseas. Her latest letter from him was written October 31.

A message from J. B. (Buddy)
Shook, former employee of the State National Bank, who is now stationed with the U. S. Armed forces in Australia, states that he was thrilled recently when a film featuring Happy McCleary and his dog, Eugene, was shown on the screen. He stated that the picture with the McCleary home on Third Avenue as a background really made his homesick for Corsicana.
It will be remembered that Happy McCleary is now a U. S. Marine at San Diego.

CITIZENSHIP MUST

IN YOUTH CONTROL

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.—(AP)—No citizen can escape the responsibility of participating in co-operative efforts to stamp out juvenile delinquency.

This thought was presented to the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers yesterday by R. C. Suran, special agent in charge of the San Antonio office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who added
these suggestions:

"There are many ways in which persons can help through youth-serving organizations, civic groups and churches of which he or she is a member.

"Citizens should see to it that their local law enforcement agencies utilize only the best personnel to handle juvenile problems."

Crime prevention will not become an actuality, he said, unless the majority of citizens of a community is willing to work constructively toward solution of the problem.

This year's convention the 35th, prominently features the four freedoms and delegates heard Dr. S. J.
Joel declare that freedom of religion and worship must be "the freedom and the necessity of worship of God."

Participating in convention ses-

IN UNIFORM

Pvt. Walker L. Vandygriff has returned to Camp Haam, California, after spending a fourteen-day tour of duty with relatives and friends in Corsicana. His wife, the former Elizabeth Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lewis, Corsicana, will remain here with her parents at the present time.

Mrs. Geraldine French, employed at The Leader, has received the Purple Heart decoration recently awarded her husband, Sgt.
E. P. French, 36th Division, Italy. The award was sent Mrs.
French by her husband, who did not tell her for what incident the award was secured. Sgt. French was a member of a local National Guard federalized here in November, 1940, and has been with the famous 36th Division since that time.

Claude B. Donaldson, Jr., F. I. C.
U. S. naval cadet, who recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. Donaldson, Sr., of Rice, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Covey of Garrettsville, Ohio, returned with a submarine unit of the USN stationed in California.

Ralph C. Boyd, S. 2C, spent Friday and Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Boyd.
He is now stationed at the Naval Air Training Center, Corpus Christi.

Lieut. Wm. H. Patrick, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patrick, Sr., 518 West Fifth avenue, has recently been transferred to the army air base at Sioux City, Ia.
Lieut. Patrick is pilot of a heavy bombardment plane.

Lt. W. H. Power, U. S. Air Forces, navigator on a Flying Fortress, now a prisoner of war of the German government at Stalag Luft 3, Germany, in a letter to his wife, 412 North Twelfth Street, Corsicana, dated October 7, says he is enjoying excellent health, is getting plenty of food and exercise. He has been a prisoner since the June 13 raid on Kiel. Lt. Dan Story is also a prisoner in this same camp.

Tech. Cpl. Cloyd M. Peabody with the Signal Corps stationed at Camp Howze, Texas, enjoyed a very pleasant three day leave visiting his grandmother, L. C.
Burns, and two uncles, Fred and Claude Burns of Blooming Grove.
Cpl. Peabody's grandmother recently celebrated her eighty-second birthday and the very happy event was climaxed by the visit of her grandson.

Pfc. Ben Windham, Jr., has returned to Jefferson Barracks, Mo., after spending an eleven-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Windham, 711 North
Commerce street.

Capt. and Mrs. Hue L. Gordon and son, Jimmy of Muskogee, Okla., were week-end guests in the homes of Mrs. Minnie Gordon, and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Roxburgh.
Capt. Gordon is stationed with the Rainbow division at Camp Gruber.

Mrs. W. E. Harrell received a telegram Wednesday from her son, Paul, who is with the 36th Division in Italy, stating that he was well and safe. Paul was a member of the National Guard when it was mobilized here in 1940.

S-Sgt. Pascal D. Iker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Iker, Route 4, Corsicana, has completed training and has been graduated from the Chanute Field, Ill., school of the Army Air Forces Training Command. While attending this school he received instruction in the electrical course, and in various technical operations vital to the maintenance of the country's fighting planes.

Seventy-six Texas soldiers, including S-Sgt. Paul Bell of Corsicana, are in an armored unit that never leaves the ground, but they are as well acquainted with the importance of pre-battle "briefing" as their brothers in the air force are.
Other men included in this group of tank men engaged in a pre-invasion program are: Privates Joseph W. Dodson, and J. B. Howard of Ennis; Sgt. C. W. Windham of Italy; Cpl. Hubert K. McCauley, Milford; and Cpl. Leslie E. Wood, Waxahatche. Every crew member in the unit can take over another job on the tank if the need should arise. Lessons derived from the campaigns in Tunisia, Sicily and Italy are being applied here in preparation for the coming assault from the direction of the European theater of operations.

COMPLETED RADIO SCHOOL

Bobby Lee Butler, seaman, 2C, Corpus Christi Naval Base, has finished the radio school and is now engaged in radio work in the general office of the main naval base.
Seaman Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Burleigh Butler of Corsicana, finished Corsicana High School in May, 1943, and entered the U. S.
Navy June 24. Due to his high grades in the radio school, Seaman Butler had an opportunity of being an instructor in the school, but chose the post in the general office. He is a grandson of Sam H.
Butler of Corsicana.

INVESTIGATION OF LIQUOR INDUSTRY
HAS BEEN OPENED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—
The justice department, already has begun an investigation of the liquor industry, into which a senate committee proposes to inquire.
Disclosing that his office is out to determine if there have been price-fixing activities and a withholding of supplies from the market in order to create an artificial shortage and thus increase prices, Wendell Berge, assistant attorney general in charge of the anti-trust division, told reporters that he had assigned special men to the inquiry and instructed them to "push it."

Berge said his department was in "full sympathy" with the senate investigation, and that his staff would follow it for evidence bearing on any monopoly or restraint of trade angles.

The Berge announcement followed an assertion by Senator Scruggs (D-Nev.), whose resolution set off the senate investigation, that there is enough whisky in bonded warehouses to provide every American citizen with more than 12 quarts.

Secretary Morgenthau told a press conference, meanwhile, that a proposal by Senator George (D-Ga.) to halve the time liquor may be kept in the warehouses without payment of taxes would solve the current retail whiskey shortage
"overnight" and "the black market in liquor" at the same time.

Berge told newsmen that the justice department inquiry thus far had resulted in "strong suspicion" of monopolistic practices

Mann Claims He Is Not Seeking Help
Of Administration

DALLAS, Nov. 18.—(AP)—"I'm not making a bid for the support of anybody but the people of Texas," Attorney General Gerald C. Mann asserted in an interview with the News in which he said he would not seek new deal administration backing in case he runs for governor in next year's elections.

Mann reiterated that his recent visit here with Vice President Henry A. Wallace was not to talk about campaign support, adding he "merely came to pay my respects to the Vice President."

TO BE HELD HERE
FRIDAY EVENINGBOYCE HOUSE IS SPEAK-ER; CADETS PROVIDE MUSICAL PROGRAM

Plans have been perfected for a snappy program at the annual Tiger Loyalty Banquet at the high school cafeteria Friday evening.
Festus A. Pierce, program chairman, has announced. The sale of tickets has been brisk. It was stated, although there are still tickets obtainable.

Boyce House, Fort Worth lecturer and writer, will be the principal speaker for the occasion. A former sports writer, the main speaker is expected to bring a fine message to the youths constituting the football squad.

A snappy musical program will be provided by personnel from Corsicana Field, Air Activities of Texas.

Coach Pete Allen, is expected to announce the 1944 lettermen at Corsicana High School on this occasion.

This annual banquet has been sponsored through the years by the local citizen club, beginning in the late 1920s.

BRING US
Your Scrap

Our Government is still badly in need of scrap iron and it is every American's duty to bring in all the old junk from around his place and let it be used where it will do the most good. We find everywhere we go both small and large piles of good iron that will help us to win the war if you will only take a small portion of your time to haul it to town. DO THIS NOW.

We are in the market for all the good tractors that we can buy. If you have one for sale at a reasonable price see us at once. We also want to buy your young mules, see our Mr.

Mother's Day

(somewhere in Europe)

... She was taking her little boy down to the milk depot.

A low-flying plane, marked with a Swastika, found her.

She is dead now. Mother's day is done.

What will happen to her little boy?

Who'll hold him and comfort him when he cries?

Will he find something to eat?

Where will he sleep tonight?

It's up to you. Through our community fund and the National War Fund, your contribution...your generosity can help this child and others like him in the shattered countries of the world. And it can help war-shattered families here at home...provide visiting nurses...combat juvenile delinquency.

But that's not all your giving will do. Maybe there's some mother's boy...a prisoner...behind barbed wire in a prison camp. He needs help. Maybe you have a boy away from home—in an army camp—or on patrol—far out at sea. He wants books...a game...something to help ward off loneliness. Your giving will help him because some of the money goes to the USO.

This year many of the war agencies, to which you gave last year, have joined in the National War Fund, which with your local welfare agencies seeks one generous gift from you in place of many small ones. It is united giving for a united cause...on three fronts...the home front, the military front with our armed forces, and the United Nations front.

So look deep into your heart—dig deep into your purse...and give generously...Once for All these. Add up what you gave last year...then double it!

SEASONAL HEALTH HAZARDS FOR YOUNG IN WINTERTIME ALSO

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.—(Sp.)—Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearances unless proper precautions are used," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not been immunized. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and only develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis condition may also prove to be an after effect of colds.

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By VERONICA DENGEL

ANSWER TO CORRESPONDENTS.

It always thrills me to get so many letters from my good readers telling me that they so much enjoy my comments about the progress of my baby. And I haven't forgotten about having a picture taken on her first birthday to use in the column.

Today I had such a letter from a woman who has been married 17 years and who is now 43. Her husband became ill shortly after they were married and was an invalid for a long time. However, he is now well again and has established a business which is proving so successful that his wife feels she can quit her job and would now like to have her child. She is wondering if she is too old to have a first baby and wanted to know what I thought about this.

ITALIAN

But for the first time in a week the skies were clear today and a bright sun shone on the muddy front giving the doughboys and Emissaries a chance to dry their clothing. Also for the first time in several days the air force had a chance to strike at the enemy. The strain on the troops has been great and the rugged mountain fighting is underscoring once again the fact that war is a grim game for tough resilient youth.

Air Action Strong; No Ground Action

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Nov. 18.—(P)—American Air-craft attacked two German airfields in the Athens area yesterday while heavy rains and flooding rivers reduced ground operations in Italy, it was announced today.

One of the sweeps across to Greece was made by American Flying Fortresses. They hit the Elmas airfield in the third attack on that objective in as many days. At the same time Mitchell mediums bombed the Kalamaki airfield.

Despite adverse conditions, the Germans mounted several counterattacks on the eastern end of the Italian battle line but all were repulsed by the British Eighth army. Many rivers near the front swept out of banks.

Many small creeks, bridged only by temporary structures, were turned into torrents, and the heavy rains effectively washed out traces of the thousands of mines planted in front of German positions.

Enemy preparations for a counterattack along the middle sector of the Sangro river front were frustrated by the Eighth army artillery a mile northwest of Atesa near the villages of Archi and Perano.

Fifth Army Front. From the entire Fifth army front only intermittent fire, in which small German boats on the Garigliano river were hit, was reported. Fighter-bombers and fighters carried out offensive patrols along the battle front despite the adverse weather and light bombers hit industrial targets at Fiumicino on the west coast opposite Elba.

Explosions were seen among the blast furnaces and coke oven of the town's industrial district. The Fortresses, unescorted to Elevis, braved an intense barrage to pour explosives on the hangars, storage dumps, runways and parked aircraft. Black bombs and three explosions marked hits in the storage areas.

Eight fires blazed from the Kalamaki airfield, visited by the Mitchell bombers to fight the way with Lightning escort through a thin screen of enemy planes.

There appeared but little doubt that the house would pass next Monday a two-pronged measure to give the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) a new lease on life but to prohibit use of government funds for subsidies.

Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), usually an administration supporter, said he still hoped a compromise could be worked out under which a time limitation, rather than a complete prohibition would be placed on subsidies.

He described the principles set forth in the declaration on Italy as "among the most basic human rights in civilized society."

He mentioned briefly the declaration on Austria and the declaration proclaiming punishment for German war atrocities.

He said the Moscow discussions lasted two weeks but did not and were not intended to bring about the solution of all the problems before the conference.

"There were other problems such, for example, as questions relating to the future of the Baltic, by their very nature, be left in abeyance until the termination of hostilities. This is in accordance with the position maintained for some time by our government."

Hull declared that "of supreme importance is the fact that at the conference the whole spirit of international cooperation, now and after the war, was revitalized and given practical expression," and that in such an atmosphere many of the problems which are difficult today will become undoubtedly easier.

He said that military discussions which took place in Moscow were aimed at closer cooperation. "I am glad to say that there is now in Moscow a highly competent United States military mission headed by Major General John R. Deane."

Hull paid personal tribute to the efficiency of Foreign Commissioner V. M. Molotov, who arranged for the business of the conference and to Britain's foreign secretary, Anthony Eden for his qualities of statesmanship.

He found in Marshal Stalin a remarkable personality, one of the great statesmen and leaders of this age.

He said he was deeply impressed by the Russian and the epic quality of their patriotism.

"A people who will fight against ruthless aggression, in utter contempt of death, as the men and women of the Soviet Union are fighting, merit the admiration and good will of the peoples of all countries."

In enumerating the accomplishments at Moscow, Hull told how the meeting decided to set up a European advisory commission in London and an advisory council for Italy.

TURKEY

Real war may not become Turkey's lot for several months.

Be In War by Spring. A few weeks ago I was convinced that Turkey would not enter the war before spring, but now I am convinced she will be in the war by spring. I have reached this conclusion despite the fact there has been no visible effort by the government to prepare the public for approaching participation in war. The man in the street is still convinced that Turkey will not enter the war soon.

Actual war likely will not come until this necessary preparation has been taken.

The new Turkish position naturally stems from the Moscow conference of foreign secretaries and subsequent Cairo talks between Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, and Numan Menemencioğlu, Turkish minister of foreign affairs. The best information on the subject, however, still is that Eden made no specific demands on Turkey.

The Moscow conference was so obvious a turning point in the war that Turkey is believed to feel it politically necessary to change from her quiet role of neutrality—which every Turk will remind you has been of tremendous benefit to the allies.

Menemencioğlu is further reported to have said that Turkey would go on helping the allies subrosa and would eventually enter the war, but the time and conditions could only be decided later.

When Turkey grants air and naval bases to the allies it will be tantamount to open warfare. This will doubtless not be done until Turkey's coast and large port cities are fully protected against aerial assault.

There already are developed in Turkey large airports and landing fields which need hardly more than the arrival of allied bombing planes and servicing crews in order to become bases for far-reaching operations against axis-held territory.

Brave Army. Turkey's army, which is made up of some of the bravest soldiers in the world, probably will get no opportunity to go into action before spring in any event, since winter definitely is not fighting weather in Thrace, the adjoining axis-held territory, even for foot soldiers.

(The Nazi-controlled Paris radio said today that Franz von Papen, Nazi ambassador to Turkey, has been replaced by Adolf Hitler. Von Papen, one of the trickiest of Hitler's diplomats, returned to Germany two days ago.)

One straw in the wind was the extended session last night of the parliamentary group of the people's republican party, only party in Turkey, which met to hear a report from Menemencioğlu on his Cairo talks. President Ismet Inönü also attended the meeting which lasted well into the night.

A communique said the party

group "approved unanimously the conduct of the government."

The entrance of Turkey and her 17,000,000 people into the war on the side of the allies would bring a complete reversal in the position of the country from that which she held in the first world war when she fought on the side of the Kaiser, Wilhelm.

Stubbornly neutral through all phases of the present conflict despite a treaty of alliance with Britain and France, dated May 12, 1930, in which she agreed to fight if war broke out in the Mediterranean Sea, Turkey showed signs of growing sympathy for the allied cause soon after the British and American landings in French North Africa a year ago.

gress as both opponents and backers of subsidies, intended to hold retail prices down, draw upon it as a basis for their arguments. Supporters of the subsidy plan say that without the federal fund payments prices will go up and inflation that will be here. Opponents say the subsidies of themselves are inflationary. Meanwhile, on Monday, the house is expected to pass a bill extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) and prohibiting the use of subsidies. Both the senate and the house expect a Presidential veto of the measure.

End Government Operation Seen. Interior department officials were hopeful today that the end was in sight for government operation of the coal mines. Wage negotiations are off to a fresh start and there appear to be no major difficulties in view.

Figs—or agriculturally speaking, hogs—are going to market so fast that pork will be two ration points cheaper over the butcher's counter Friday. Support prices have been guaranteed by the War Food Administration (WFA) and the OPA is out to encourage pork consumption.

"LAUNDRY HILL" IS WORLD'S LARGEST CLOTHING PLANT

SOME 4,000,000 GARMENTS SALVAGED MONTHLY IN ALGIERS

By HAL BOYLE
ALGIERS, Nov. 18.—(P)—"Laundry Hill," the world's largest clothing repair and dry-cleaning plant is salvaging 4,000,000 garments a month for the American army.

Here all the torn, worn and otherwise damaged items of GI uniforms sent back by the troops are mended or mended, and when Uncle Sam's quartermasters get through there isn't enough thrown away to make a square meal for a moth.

"Give us the buttons and we'll build a uniform around them" is the slogan on "Laundry Hill," a plant overlooking the Mediterranean near Oran where the army has concentrated its clothing redemption facilities.

Every repairable garment is carefully patched and reused after being sterilized. Pants, shirts and field jackets too worn for further use are put into the ragbag after buttons and zippers have been removed.

In addition to conserving clothing costs, the salvage operations release shipping space for other war needs.

The two buildings which house the laundry and dry-cleaning are in the process of being converted into a project. They are built almost entirely of lumber from discarded packing crates. The plant runs full blast for 20 hours every day.

At present it is manned largely by native Italians, who originally were prisoners of war but have been formed into labor companies under their own officers since the armistice. American experts supervise their work.

Those who wield the needle have found out that the American soldier in this theater isn't wearing out the seat of his pants—a sure sign of prolonged inactivity. Instead he's wearing out his clothes the hard way—in the field of operations—doing work that wears them out all over.

The biggest menace to army uniforms isn't the enemy—it's barbed wire and machinery that catch and rip the fabric.

The parent plant work is supplemented by numerous mobile laundry units which provide once a week laundry service for troops throughout the theater.

Ortiz Defends His Title Again for His Biggest Purse

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—(P)—When the Aztec assassin, Manuel Ortiz, defends his bantam title for the eighth time this year against Detroit's unbeaten Benny Goldberg next Tuesday he'll get his biggest purse, about $10,000.

The Olympia auditorium will be jammed to capacity, with a $28,000 gate assured and Ortiz guaranteed 37-1-2 per cent. Goldberg, who has skipped through 46 professional fights without a beating, figures to get about $3,000.

Twice Benny has faced the hard-socking Mexican and both times he won the decision, but that was in the days when both boys were preliminary fighters, and while the Jewish lad is much cleverer now, Ortiz really can tag 'em, and often.

Fined $100
W. M. Bishop, alias "Tight" Bishop, entered a plea of guilty Thursday in county court to a charge of violating the prohibition laws and was fined $100 and costs by E. D. McCormick, county judge.

Dogs offered to the Army must pass a physical test and they frequently are turned down for defective eyes or ears.

BOARD OF EDUCATION OF FIRST METHODIST RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers were re-elected for the new year at the regular monthly meeting of the board of education of the First Methodist church, held Sunday afternoon, as follows: W. H. Norwood, chairman; Rev. Edwin F. Bohmfalk, vice chairman; and Mrs. Mahie Wilkinson, secretary. The election was made after a report by a nominating committee composed of J. S. Tekell, Miss Aileen Caraway and Miss Winnie Lee Rankin.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Wilkinson, and Mr. Norwood presided at the meeting. Several matters in connection with the Thanksgiving and Christmas programs were discussed.

It was voted to hold the December meeting of the board on the first Sunday in December at which time the final arrangements for the White Christmas offering for the Home in Waco would be made and other plans completed for the church-wide Christmas tree the board voted to have in the church auditorium on Christmas Eve.

Rev. Mr. Bohmfalk stated that the Union Thanksgiving service this year would be held at the First Methodist church on Wednesday night, November 24, which is Thanksgiving Eve. The speaker for this event has not been chosen. The offering will go to the Community Chest-United War Campaign that is now under way.

CHRISTMAS ARRIVES AHEAD OF TIME FOR FRONT LINE YANKS

GREAT LOADS OF YULE PACKAGES MOVING FROM HOMELAND TO FRONT

By DON WHITEHEAD
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY Near Venafro, Italy, Nov. 18.—(P)—Christmas has arrived for the American doughboys in the front lines.

Great loads of Yuletide packages bearing postmarks of home towns from Maine to California are being rushed to the front by truck, mule train and hand to cheer the boys now living in cold foggy weather in ankle-deep mud.

It was pouring rain today as we skidded in a jeep along a rough muddy trail to the foot of a mountain near the front line. For some reason this sector of the front was fairly quiet and the guns were not booming strongly as usual.

In the doorway of a barn on an improvised table Pfc Herman Sumner, Cranberry, W. Va., carefully wrapped a package.

"Naw," he said, "I'm wrapping this for the sergeant."

Sergeant Thomas Wallace, Walnut, Ia., held string in his hand. "I'm sending home bed spreads for the folks," he said. "I have one for mother and another for my wife. I hope they get there in time."

Most of the boys are sending packages home to parents, friends, wives. Tons are arriving here with each mail delivery. They are taken into the front line with rations and distributed.

They ignore the warning "Do Not Open Until Christmas" and strip off the paper to get at candy, cigarettes, cakes and other gifts.

Pfc Tony Zaleski, Detroit, began kidding the boys.

"Seems to me there are few packages from Iowa, but I guess there's not much in that state anyway," he said.

"That's what you think," retorted Private James Linsville, Marshalltown, Ia., "as a matter of fact Michigan is only attached to Iowa for ration purposes."

But underneath the banter and wise cracks was a warm feeling of cheerfulness as the men stood around watching Christmas packages being wrapped while a cold dismal rain fell outside the doorway and guns boomed in the distance.

Montgomery Overweight.
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—(P)—Lightweight Champion Bob Montgomery was one pound over the class limit as he wound up training in Stillman's for his 15-round title battle with Beau Jack Friday night in Madison Square Garden. Monty weighed 136 and Jack 135 1-2 after their final stiff drills.

Marian Anderson Marries.
BETHEL, Conn., Nov. 18.—(P)—Marian Anderson, negro contralto and Orpheus Fisher, a draftsman employed in a Danbury factory (Barden Corp.) were married here July 24 it was disclosed last night by Town Clerk Leonard L. Bailey.

The couple was married by the Rev. Jack Grenfell, pastor of the Bethel Methodist church.

ROMANIANS SEEKING LEAVE HOMELAND AS SOVIET DRAW NEAR

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 18.—(P)—Thousands of Rumanians are crowding neutral consulates seeking visas to go abroad as a result of tensions created by the nearness of Russia's armies, the revival of a dispute with Hungary and increasing indications of a government crisis.

A Bucharest dispatch to the Gazette De Lausanne said 36,000 persons had asked visas to Turkey, and 35,000 to Switzerland.

Refugees from the north, streaming into the capital from areas threatened by the Red army advances west to Kiev, created an acute housing problem.

Rumors of a government change slanted more toward a "democratic regime" have increased, the Bucharest dispatch said, with the report that King Mihai saw Ju-ly Maniu, aged peasant leader and chief of the opposition who fought the Nazi alliance from the beginning.

The dispatch said Michael Antonescu, vice-premier, was expected to be charged with forming a new government. Antonescu was reported early this year to have lost favor with Adolf Hitler, who was reported to have demanded his removal because of his luke-

MONEYED CLASSES OF ITALY REAPING ALLIED HARVEST

By WES GALLAGHER

BARI, Nov. 18.—(P)—In the midst of poverty, starvation and confusion, Italy's moneyed classes, which never suffered under fascism, are reaping a golden harvest of American dollars and British pounds from soldier "tourists."

In this section of Italy under Italian government jurisdiction, shopkeepers and big store owners are making 10 times as much money in one day as they made in a month of the best pre-war tourist year.

Store owners are indulging in an unchecked profiteering orgy at the expense of the British and Americans.

The stores are well stocked and Italian shopkeepers have been taking full advantage of the Christmas spirit.

The soldiers are paying the monetary bill while the poor Italian laboring class is paying the bill in misery as the prices of clothes warm attitude toward the Axis.

The Budapest correspondent of the Gazette spoke of reports of a concentration of several Rumanian divisions on the border of Transylvania, the wedge-shaped territory awarded to Hungary in 1940 by Hitler and Mussolini.

Eight Missing in Naval Plane Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 18.—(P)—Eight men are missing in the crash of a PBV bomber 220 miles northeast of the naval station here and 100 miles offshore, the Navy announced today.

The plane, which crashed yesterday, has been located on a surface craft are searching for possible survivors.

Names of the men are not released.

and other essential items skyrocket out of their reach.

The price of a suit of clothes of the cheapest quality in two months has risen from 3,000 lira (about $158 at the pre-war rate of exchange) to twice that amount.

Shoes have gone from 500 lira ($26.30) to 1,800 ($95) and shirts from 100 lira ($5.26) to 350 ($18).

Silk stockings have risen from 75 lira ($3.95) to as much as 400 ($21). Jewelry trinkets of the type sold in American five and ten's are going to gullible soldiers as "the real thing" for prices up to $50.

Cameras worth 400 lira ($21) are selling for 8,000 ($420).

The rising prices of these luxury items are reflected on the black market where a flood of money has driven essential food items to great heights.

The earliest known system of written laws was the code of Hammurabi king of Babylon, which were promulgated about 2,350 B.C.
